Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning March 17.

By REV. S. H. DOYLE.

Topic.—What is success? Prov. III, 1-3. Success in a purely technical sense "is the attainment of a proposed object." In this sense the man who makes it the object of his life to win a great fortune and does so is successful in that he accomplishes what he has aimed for. But the word as used in our topic has a much broader meaning. It refers to success in life. What is a successful life? To this question varied answers would be given by different people. It all depends upon our conception of life. To many people the amassing of wealth is success, to others the attainment of high position, and to others again it is the winning of fame in one form or another. But life is made up of many interests, and the reaching of no one goal will necessarily mean success. Many men have reached positions of wealth, of high honor and fame, and yet their lives have been failures. They themselves in no few instances would be the first to pronounce them so. Let us then get no false idea of success.

What, then, is success? If compelled to answer this question simply and plainly, what better answer could be given than that success is the faithful performance of all the duties of life that devolve upon us. God brings every human being into this world for a purpose, and he who comes the nearest to the fulfillment of that purpose is successful, whether he dies rich or poor, occupying high or humble position, or his name be known or unknown to the world. He is successful who at the end of life can look back and say with the Master, "I have finished the work which Thou gavest me to do." And nothing else is success. Honors won in one direction will not make up for failure to perform the duties of life in other directions.

Success in this highest and truest sense embraces the duties owed to God, to our fellow men and to ourselves. God must stand first in every successful life. The life that ignores or neglects God is the saddest of failures. To neglect God is to neglect the soul, the highest, the immortal part of our being, and of course there can be no success in such a life. Then we sustain various relations to the rest of the people of the world. A selfish life is never a successful life. The man who thinks not of his duties to others, or, even worse, mistreats them for the accomplishment of his own personal ambitions, cannot be looked upon as successful. We also owe duties to ourselves, and these are not to be neglected or abused.

Solomon was most competent to speak with authority upon the subject of success. His experiences in things which the world commonly looks upon as success make his words of especial value upon the subject. He had wisdom, wealth, pleasure, power, honor, fame. Perhaps he has never been surpassed in the glory and splendor of earthly honors that were his. And yet he does not declare that these things spell success. He ignores them, and exalts especially obedience to God, the right treatment of our fellow men, and the cultivation of the personal virtues that make a good character as the essential things in life. As his life drew to a close he looked back upon it all, and, forgetting all earthly splendor and glory, he declared: "Fear God and keep his commandments. This is the whole duty of man." Do this, and your life will be successful. Otherwise it will be a failure. Which will you choose to make it?

STATE CAPITAL TO PORTLAND.

Change of sentiment in Portland's favor since her proposition became known. Portland practically gives the State a Capitol building if the people so vote.

Now that the people throughout the State are beginning to hear from Portland's side of the case, the misunderstanding due to the misleading statements of those who have assumed to tell her story for her, are being brushed aside.

The Mayor's Inaugural.
Mayor Greeley's inaugural address is printed in full in another column. He calls the attention of the new board to the serious problems they have to solve, and expresses the hope that they will use rare good judgment in dealing with them.

The matter of finances he regards as the most important. The mayor's recommendation that the appropriations be made as liberal as possible, but without extravagance, was promptly acted upon by increasing them from $37,249 last year to $41,051. The schools, the public library and the fire department were given special attention, and his honor's suggestion regarding them are worthy of consideration.

Five Maine cities held elections Monday. In Bangor the republicans regained control, electing John F. Woodman mayor by a majority of 319, and carrying four of the seven wards. In Augusta the democrats retained the control re-electing Mayor Plaisted. Belfast went democratic again, Edgar F. Hanson being elected mayor by a majority of forty. Biddeford elected a citizens-republican mayor over the democratic candidate by a very close vote, but the democrats carried four of the seven wards. In Brewer the republican ticket had no opposition.

We had hoped that Mayor Greeley would have suggested in his inaugural the establishment of a sinking fund to provide for the city's debt, which is getting alarmingly near the limit established by law. The raising of $1,000 or $1,500 in addition to the regular commitment would scarcely be felt, and in our judgment would gladly be borne by the tax-payers if they could be assured that the money raised for this purpose would be used for that and no other.

The suggestion that Ellsworth join one or more contiguous towns in employing a district superintendent of schools comes too late to be acted upon this year, as all near-by towns have already held their elections. The scheme is said to work admirably wherever it has been tried.

Height of Mt. Katahdin.
In the grammar schools the youth learn that Mount Katahdin is Maine's highest peak, but he never hears of it afterward. This neglect is extraordinary in view of Maine's attractiveness to an army of hunters and summer vacationists, and the location of this mountain within fifty miles of Bangor.

The national geological survey has just completed a study of Katahdin which explains why we know so little of it. Even in these days of rapid transit, the region surrounding it is so inaccessible that a week must be allowed for the round trip between the nearest railroad station, and if the explorer wants to be sure of an opportunity to reach its summit, he must prepare to stay considerably longer, since low-hanging clouds often wrap the peaks in a thick fog for days at a time. During such periods it is dangerous to attempt the ascent.

From a distance Katahdin appears an isolated peak, rising from an almost level plain, but a nearer view reveals it as merely the highest of a number of mountain masses, and that it is itself cut into four peaks. The timber line is well below the summit, which supports only lichens and a few dwarfed plants, the vegetation being purely of the Alpine type.

The mountain consists of granite, of which great bare spaces, caused by rock slides, stand out conspicuously. From the north the ascent is gradual and comparatively easy, but from the south the mountain rises with abrupt and, in places, precipitous slopes, from the lowlands of the west branch of the Penobscot, the view of which from the summit is one of rare beauty. The mountain is snow-covered from September till June, while in the remaining months freezing weather is not uncommon. The long dispute as to the height of this peak has now been settled.

Early estimates ranged between 4,700 feet and 5,400, but several years ago Dr. Fernald, former president of the Maine State college, gave 5,286 feet as the height of the west peak as the results of surveys, which have now proved surprisingly accurate. The government's party, under the charge of Professor H. S. Boardman, fixes the elevation at just two feet more than that. The east peak was found to be but eighteen feet lower. Perhaps some day the tide of summer travel will make Katahdin more than a name to be learned in geographies and standing in one's recollections for nothing else.

COUNTY GOSSIP.

Forty-five cents for lobsters at the trap. That's a record price.

Brooksville is having a little mining boom. The Tapley copper mine, recently sold to Boston and New York men, is to be worked, it is said. An engine and pump to clear the shaft are being set up.

Mrs. Louisa Cox, of Harrington, said to be 108 years old on Jan. 13 last, died Sunday. Mrs. Cox was the only person in Maine who disputed Aunt Salome Sellers' right to the claim that she was the oldest person in Maine. Mrs. Sellers was 106 years old on October 15 last.

Dr. Luther G. Bunker, who was last week elected mayor of Waterville, is a Hancock county boy—a son of the late John E. Bunker, of Trenton. He was born in Trenton, educated in the common schools of his town and in Bluehill academy, and graduating from Bowdoin medical college. A Waterville writer says: "Dr. Bunker was selected as the republican candidate for mayor of Waterville because he was in no way connected with the old political regime, because he is a man against whom no person can raise a possible social, political or professional objection. He is one of the sterling citizens of whom the State boasts and of whom the city is proud. It is no small compliment to Dr. Bunker's personal popularity that he, a republican, was elected mayor, while the democrats elected a majority of the aldermen.

From Bluehill comes word that the automobile embargo is on, that is, mostly. Those in Ellsworth desiring to visit the town by that kind of conveyance, or to pass through it to Sedgwick or Brooklin, must travel by way of Mason's Mills, East Orland, enter by North Bluehill, follow the Hinckley road and thence to Beech-hill corner, at which three ways meet. At this corner travellers taking the right hand road can proceed to South street and North Sedgwick. The left hand road leads to the Bluehill house—the only hotel that can be reached directly by automobiles. From a point a few rods below the Bluehill house, and from the inn corner above Tenney hill, like Moses of old, they can view the landscape o'er, only instead of Jordan there will be a sign-board between. There is no way of departure from the village except to return to Beechhill corner, where all the autos that enter the town, except on one or two remote roads, must pass, unless they circle around Wood's pond on a road so narrow that in many places two ordinary teams cannot pass each other. The musical selections appropriate to this state of affairs would seem to be, "Good-by Sweet Day," and "Rise my Sowle and Stretch thy Wings," for flying machines have not yet been prohibited.

BRIDGE BILL KILLED.

In the Senate last Wednesday the general bridge bill, giving State control to all bridges over forty feet in length, was killed by a vote of fifteen to twelve to indefinitely postpone. The coffin nail was clinched on the other side by Mr. Deasy's motion to reconsider, which was lost by the same division.

Mr. Deasy led the opposition to the bill on the floor, delivering one of the most eloquent, as well as one of the longest speeches of the session. He scored many telling points against the proposed bill. Among other things he said:

If we pass this bill—if we take the bridges out of the hands of the people of the towns and put them into the hands of a commission in Augusta, next year we will not be called upon to take the roads out of the hands of the people, or to take the schools out of the hands of the people, and vest them in a central government here in Augusta, or wherever the capital may be.

It may be that the commissioner or commissioners, sitting at the seat of government of this State, may be better able to manage the people's affairs than they are themselves. It may be true; but, Mr. President, the people do not believe it; and you have got to spend some time in a campaign of education before you can make them believe it. You have got to send somebody around to teach them that they are not capable of local self government and the management of their own affairs, before you take these things out of their hands; you will have to send my brother Heselon around the State with his convincing tongue to talk to the people, to teach them that they are not fit to take care of their own affairs; you will have to send the highway commissioner around with him, that he may speak briefly upon the subject of what he knows about building bridges.

But, Mr. President, until you have taught the people that they do not know how to manage their own affairs—and it will require a long time to teach them this—they have got an idea that they do know how; they have done it, and their forefathers before them, and it takes a long time to unlearn them) until you have taught them that their affairs can be managed better from Augusta than they are in their own hands and under their own control, a legislature that attempts to take these public municipal matters out of the hands of the people will get itself into trouble.

Another objection I have to this bill, Mr. President, is, it is unfair. There are two classes of towns. There is one class of towns which by infinite industry, by taxing themselves, by self-sacrifice, has built bridges. There are other towns which have not built them, but have spent their money for other things. Now, you are saying to those towns that have bridges, "You have your bridges—you have paid for them; you have taxed yourself to pay for them—now tax yourself to build bridges in other places."

NOTES.

In the House last Wednesday the University of Maine scored a decisive victory,

There are some women who seem to be perennially youthful. The grown daughters are companions as well as children, and the color in the mother's cheeks, the brightness in her eyes, the roundness of her form, all speak of abounding health. What is her secret? She is at the middle age of life when so many women are worn, wasted and faded, and yet time has only ripened her beauty. The secret of this marvellous health and beauty may be told in the brief phrase, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The general health of a woman is so intimately related to the local health of the delicate womanly organs, that where these are diseased, the whole body suffers. "Favorite Prescription" dries and debilitates drains, heals ulcerations and inflammation, cures female weakness and imparts to the delicate female organs natural vigor and vitality. Women who have lost their health and their beauty have been made "robust and rosy-cheeked" by the use of this marvellous medicine.

when the vote to strike out the amendment eliminating the B. A. degree was carried by an overwhelming majority, and an amendment passed giving the college $65,000 a year for two years, in addition to the $90,000 for new buildings.

The committee on judiciary Friday returned two reports on the resolves to establish a direct initiative and optional referendum, the eight republican members declaring in favor of the Weeks bill in a new draft which applies to statute law only, and the two democratic members declaring in favor of the same principles as applied to both statute and constitutional law. The two bills are identical except in this instance. Both reports were laid on the table and assigned to Thursday, March 14.

Governor Cobb signed Monday the act which changes the manner of measuring lobsters so that the measurement is taken the length of the back of the lobster from the end bone of the nose to the rear end of the body shell. The minimum length allowed under this measurement is 4½ inches. This measurement was adopted to overcome the practice of "stretching". The act to abolish Fast day and create Patriots' day has been signed by the governor. The day so observed will be April 19.

Daily Life in America.

At a recent dinner in London the conversation turned to the subject of lynching in the United States. It was the general opinion that a large percentage of Americans met death at the end of a rope. Finally the hostess turned to an American who had taken no part in the conversation, and said:

"You, sir, must have often seen these affairs?"

"Yes," he replied, "we take a kind of pride in seeing which city can show the greatest number of lynchings yearly."

"Oh, do tell us about a lynching you have seen yourself," broke in half a dozen voices at once.

"The night before I sailed for England," said the American, "I was giving a dinner at a hotel to a party of intimate friends when a colored waiter spilled a plate of soup over the gown of a lady at an adjoining table. The gown was utterly ruined, and the gentlemen of her party at once seized the waiter, tied a rope around his neck, and at a signal from the injured lady, swung him into the air."

"Horrible!" said the hostess with a shudder. "And did you actually see this yourself?"

"Well, no," admitted the American, apologetically. "Just at that moment I happened to be downstairs killing the chef for putting mustard in the blanc mange."

The Oldest Tree in the World.

On a little island in the Indian ocean, Ceylon, stands the oldest tree in the world. Its age is about 2,300 years and is undoubtedly authentic. It was brought to Ceylon about 300 B. C. and was a branch of a tree under which the Buddha had Gautama sat when he attained Buddhahood. Greatly revered by pilgrims, it has a temple erected in its honor.

Through centuries it has been respected and spared by all. During its lifetime most of the world's history has been made. It was already old when the world's Redeemer walked beneath the bending palms of Palestine, and standing where it stands to-day.

We have dismal fancies of things that never come to pass. Most of our troubles are no more than nightmares that are gone with the waking hours. It's a bad disease we've got—this distemper of the imagination.

Casey—Ye're a ha-d worrker, Dooley. How many hods o'morthur have you carried up that ladder th' day? Dooley—Whist, man; O'm foolin' th' boss. O've carried this same hodful up an' down all day, an' he thinks O'm worrkin'.

"This is merely a slight misunderstanding," said a busy magistrate persuasively. "Now, suppose you got it decided privately by the arbitration of an honest and reasonable man?" "I don't want a decision from any honest and reasonable man," was the angry reply of one of the disputants. "I want a decision from the court!"

INAUGURATION.

DEMOCRATS TAKE UP REINS OF GOVERNMENT.

MAYOR GREELY'S ADDRESS URGES ECONOMY IN CITY AFFAIRS—MANY NEW OFFICERS ELECTED.

The management of the municipal affairs of the city passed into the hands of the democrats last Monday, when Mayor Arthur W. Greely and a board of aldermen of three democrats and two republicans, took their seats.

Mayor Greely is not an unfamiliar figure at the head of the aldermen's table. He has served there four years, and now has the distinction of being elected for a fifth term after a lapse of four years. Ex-Mayor A. C. Hagerthy, who escorted the new mayor to the chair, in introducing him said: "Four years ago Mr. Greely, then the retiring mayor, escorted me to the chair. To-day I have the honor and the pleasure of returning the compliment."

The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock by City Clerk T. F. Hale. Alderman McCarthy was elected chairman of the board. It was voted to accept the returns of the several ward clerks as evidence of election. The roll was then called, all the aldermen responding as follows:

Ward 1—Charles H. Curtis
Ward 2—George B. Stuart
Ward 3—Charles Monaghan
Ward 4—Alvin Staples
Ward 5—Charles E. Alexander.

The retiring mayor, A. C. Hagerthy, was appointed a committee to escort Mayor Greely to the chair. After the mayor had taken his place, prayer was offered by Rev. R. B. Matthews, of the Congregational church.

The oath of office was then administered to the mayor and aldermen by City Clerk Hale.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

Mayor Greely then addressed the board as follows:

Gentlemen of the Board: You have been chosen to administer the affairs and perform the various duties pertaining to the government of the city for the ensuing year. Our city has not been as prosperous for some years past as we could have wished, but there seems a dawn of a brighter prospect, and it is incumbent on you as well as myself that our actions be such as to benefit the city in all possible ways.

We cannot expect to satisfy everyone, and we should be more than human did we not make some mistakes. If we can satisfy ourselves as to what action is right and for the highest welfare of our city, and act in accordance therewith, we cannot go far wrong. Let harmony prevail at all our sittings to the end that better results may be obtained.

FINANCES.

Finances is the most important matter with which you will have to deal. With finances at a low ebb, a town or city running its affairs with no curtailment of expenditures will sooner or later find itself reduced to repudiation. I do not mean to say that our city is in such a condition, but I can rightly say that the city has been spending money too fast for the good of its financial situation. From a period of reducing its debt it has passed to a period of increasing it. A small debt is not objectionable, but one running near to the limit should not be tolerated. That the finances of the city are in a far from satisfactory condition will be seen from the following statement:

The total liabilities of the city as shown by the finance committee report: For 1903, $81,083.50; 1904, $82,943.12; 1905, $83,973.58; 1906, $87,724.94; 1907, $98,536.49; increase of liabilities since 1903, $9,238.29.

We have received from the State and other sources amounts as follows: 1903, $5,444.58; 1904, $7,967.59; 1905, $7,504.24; 1906, $7,854.92; 1907, $8,233.99.

We find the assets other than cash in treasury reported as follows: 1903, $34,152.57; 1904, $28,445.75; 1905, $27,470.97; 1906, $25,629.87; 1907, $24,914.28; decrease in assets, $7,450.90.

Thus the increase in liabilities and decrease in assets increase the net city debt, $16,889.19.

Among the assets reported by the finance committee for 1907 are the following taxes, which have been committed to various collectors and are now practically uncollectable, as the original collectors and their bondsmen have been discharged. 1887-8-9, $3,295.65; 1895, $4,659.12; 1896, $1,478.09; 1897, $1,131.37; 1898, $1,658.60; 1899, $982.66; 1900-1, $2,744.38. Total, $11,762.47.

On June 1 next there becomes due $13,300 of our funded debt. Two ways have been suggested as to the better method for disposal of the same—refunding, or issuing in form of notes. It is a matter of reflection for you.

APPROPRIATIONS.

I believe that our appropriations should be sufficient for the needs of each department when properly managed, and the expenditures should be kept within the appropriations. Conditions in the city are now such that it is very necessary that thought and care be taken in making appropriations, and economy should be practiced in making expenditures. It is no time now to indulge in luxuries; bare necessities will have to do for us.

SCHOOLS.

Our schools are the sources from which come intelligent citizenship, and the better they are kept the better will be the results. Our schools, with the corps of teachers engaged, have averaged well with the schools through the State, and it is good policy and money well invested to keep the average high. It is essential that we have a school board that appreciates the importance of our schools, and will lend a hand to assist, encourage and promote the interest of the teachers in their work; and will speak an occasional good word to the pupils to encourage them.

Our schoolhouses are not so good as we could wish, but they will do until we can afford to have better. Most of them are in fair repair and condition.

LIBRARY.

In the attainment of general intelligence, a good library does not bow to the schools. Under the discriminating and intelligent

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be no need, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is—and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any cough cure enters into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason, mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must be by law on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. Sold by G. A. PANCHER.

supervision of Chief Justice Emery, president of the board of library trustees, books of more than an average intellectual quality are frequently added to the library. The number of books now in the library is 4,812. The estimated expense of library is as follows:

Librarian's salary	$150.00
Assistant's salary	30.00
Reading-room curator	125.00
Postoffice box rent	2.40
Janitor	120.00
Fuel account	75.00
Incidental repairs, etc.	50.00
Renewal of worn-out books	30.00

Purchase of books, etc. $200.00
Total $603.40

The trustees serve without pay. Funds donated solely for purchase of books are the Jellison fund, of which the income at present is $34.50, and the DeLaitre fund, $150 annually. The foregoing funds were not donated to the tax payers, but to the library solely for the purchase of books. The city has always provided about $200 a year for the purchase of new books. To provide less than that in the future would savor of a breach of faith with the donors. The city should appropriate enough to keep up the library, and in addition at least $200 for additions.

The trustees have begun the experiment of a branch library at North Ellsworth or Nicoln, and propose to extend the service to other parts of the city in the near future. The paper balance to the credit of the library will be absorbed in large part by recent purchase of books and books contracted for since the date of the statement in the report.

HIGHWAYS AND BRIDGES.

Of the highways and bridges I have but little to say, as I know not what their condition is. It is essential, however, that they be kept in good condition.

SIDEWALKS.

The sidewalks should be kept in good condition not only for the comfort of the people in walking, but to avoid possible damages against the city.

PERPETUAL CARE OF CEMETERY LOTS.

There have been deposited by sundry persons at sundry times certain sums of money on which the city guarantees a per cent per annum, the object being the perpetual care of the cemetery lots. The amount deposited at this time is $1,275. I would recommend that the sum of $1,275 be appropriated, and that the money be invested in some shares, bonds or securities drawing as great a rate of interest as is consistent with safety, and the fund to be called the "Perpetual Care of Cemetery Fund", said fund never to be used for any other purpose. All other sums of money hereafter deposited with the city for the sole purpose should be added to the said fund.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Among reasons that could be cited in favor of an efficient, well-equipped and well-conducted fire department is one relative to fire insurance rates, which have gradually increased so that they have become much of a burden, and if still more increased will become much of a burden as to prevent many people from seeking the protection which fire insurance affords. It is a good policy, and should be our aim to keep the rates of insurance as low as may be, and to do so I know of no better way than to keep the fire department up to an efficient standard. Although I counsel economy in expenditures as a rule yet where our property is at stake I deem it wise and prudent to be more liberal. Some new hose has recently been received, but there is not enough for safety.

POOR.

Under the management and care of Mr. Drummey and his good wife, the unfortunate poor of our city are being well provided for. The number of poor at the city farm is seven; the number not at the farm but being provided at their homes is eighty-seven. The buildings at the farm are in want of repair and should receive attention. Gentlemen, I have in a short and simple way called your attention to some of the matters that will engage your minds for the year that is before us. Some unforeseen things may occur that will require your attention, but whatever you do, do with the best interests of the city uppermost in your minds, and if you are not successful you will have the satisfaction of an approving conscience.

MAYOR'S APPOINTMENTS.

Mayor Greely announced his appointments, which were confirmed by the board as follows:

City marshal—Edward T. Finn.

Janitor Hancock hall—Charles E. Pio.

Assistant overseers of the poor—Ald. Monaghan and Curtis.

Traut officers—Edward T. Finn, Chas. P. Smith.

Librarian—Miss Adelaide True.

Janitor of city library—Not yet appointed.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

The mayor announced the following standing committees:

Accounts and claims—Full board.

Finance—Stuart, Staples, Alexander.

Fire department—Stuart, Monaghan, Curtis.

Highways, sidewalks and bridges—Staples, Stuart, Monaghan.

Poor—Curtis, Monaghan, Staples.

Library—Alexander, Stuart, Curtis.

Electric lights—Monaghan, Stuart, Alexander.

City property—Full board.

The rules and regulations governing preceding boards were adopted.

It was voted to hold the regular meetings the first Monday evening of each month, at 7.30 o'clock.

SALARIES.

The board voted the following salaries, which are the same as last year, except that of chief engineer which was increased from $50 to $75.

City clerk—$200 and fees.

City treasurer—$300.

Assessors—$2 per day of eight hours.

Chief engineer—$50.

Assistants—$25 each.

Inspector of buildings—$25.

Inspector of meats and milk—$25.

Janitor of Hancock hall—$2 a night when hall is in use.

City marshal and day policeman—$15 a month; $15 per year for winding city clock.

Night policeman—$15 a month.

Street commissioner—$2 per day for actual service; he to furnish his own conveyance.

Superintendent of schools—$550.

Chairman overseers of poor—$50.

Stewards of house companies—$35 each.

Members of Senator Hale Hose Co. and City Hose Co., $20 each a year; two torch boys to each company, $5 each.

Members of Ticonic Hose Co., $20 each.

Board of health—$25 for secretary; $20 for each of other two members.

The question whether it would be possible and desirable to unite with one or two adjoining towns for the employment of a superintendent jointly was discussed at some length. The sentiment of the board seemed to favor such a plan if it could be arranged satisfactorily, but it is too late to put it in effect this year.

The arguments in favor of the plan are that the city would obtain the services of an expert who would devote his whole time to the schools in the towns under his supervision. The expense would be shared by the towns in proportion to the services rendered each, and the State reimburses each town to the extent of one-half the amount appropriated for superintendent's salary up to the maximum sum of $250 for each town.

There was some discussion as to the best method of collecting taxes, whether by contract, as during the past two years, or by commission, as formerly. Final action was deferred until a later meeting.

APPROPRIATIONS.

Before the matter of appropriations was taken up Ald. Stuart spoke at some length on the question. He urged a larger contingent fund, and the holding down of other appropriations as close as possible. He believed in raising money enough so that the city would not run behind during the year and increase its city debt, and it would be necessary to increase the tax rate somewhat.

The condition of roads and bridges, the effect of the building of the lower dam on roads and bridges, some of which will be discontinued or moved, were discussed at some length. Brimmer's bridge and the new Mariaville road were also touched upon. The bridge is in bad condition, and the road needs considerable work and use. It will be necessary to extensively repair the bridge, or do much more work on the new road.

Chief Justice L. A. Emery appeared before the board and spoke briefly against any reduction in the appropriation for the city library.

The appropriations were gone over, and the sum for several of the funds tentatively agreed upon. Ald. Stuart spoke of the necessity for more new fire hose, and suggested a special fund for that purpose. A recess was then taken until Tuesday afternoon.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

The full board was present at Tuesday afternoon's meeting. The budget of appropriations was again taken up and finally passed.

The appropriations as voted, with the appropriations for last year given for comparison, are as follows:

APPROPRIATIONS.

	1906.	1907.
Contingent,	$5,000	$5,000
Highway,	4,250	4,250

In discussing the appropriations for bridges attention was called to the fact that in September, 1905, on petition from the Bar Harbor & Union River Power Co., backed by a large number of citizens at a meeting of the city government, it was voted to discontinue the Brimmer, Doyle and Infant street bridges, and certain portions of highways which would be flowed when the two proposed dams were built. There is no stipulation in the vote that discontinuance of the bridges was conditional on the building of the dams.

It was voted that the committee on highways and bridges be instructed to ascertain the status of the city in regard to the Brimmer, Doyle and Infant street bridges, and portions of highways which appear on the city records as having been discontinued by vote of the board of aldermen on Sept. 30, 1905.

The board took a recess until Saturday at 2 p. m.

Rest Made Easy.

There Will Be Less Sleeplessness When Ellsworth People Learn This.

Can't rest at night with a bad back, a lame, a weak or an aching one.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for bad backs. They cure every form of kidney ill, from common backache to diabetes.

They are endorsed by Ellsworth people.

Mrs. George W. Day, living on Shore Road, two miles from Ellsworth, Me., says: "Six years ago I made a statement for publication recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, the substance of which was as follows: I had a miserable backache and almost every movement I made brought severe twinges of pain. I could not rest at night, for no position I assumed was comfortable, and in the morning I awoke tired and unrefreshed. A physician said I had kidney disease, as the symptoms showed it plainly. I took many remedies, but only received temporary relief, and finally, just before I used Doan's Kidney Pills, I suffered from an attack which almost prostrated me. Not having much faith left in medicines, I was rather skeptical when Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended and I bought a box, because I knew something had to be done. I procured them at E. G. Moore's drug store, formerly Wiggin & Moore's drug store. They acted directly upon the kidneys, and in a short time I was greatly relieved. I have even more confidence in them to-day than I had at that time, because I have used a few dozen since and they have never failed to bring the most beneficial results. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills very earnestly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Effect of the Food Law.
Driving Many Worthless Catarrh Medicines Out of Existence.

Many worthless remedies that have been advertised for the cure of catarrh have been driven out of existence by the Pure Food Law.

This has naturally increased the sale of reliable remedies, and those that fulfill the provisions of the law. Hyomei, for example, has a larger sale than before, and G. A. Parcher still sells it under a guarantee that it will cure catarrh or the money will be refunded.

Breathe Hyomei three or four times daily through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and its healing air will reach the most remote parts of the nose, throat and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs and soothing and healing any irritation in the mucous membrane.

"I Had a Cough
That Friends
Feared
Would End
My Life."

I Took
Pe-ru-na
And Am
Well."

MRS. GRACE JANSON.

Mrs. Grace Janson, 1400 Madison street, Chicago, Ill., writes:
"Typhoid fever left me with a complication of diseases. I had a terrible pain in my left side and had a cough that all my friends feared would soon end my life."

"My doctor came to see me three times a week, but could do me no good. He could not account for the pain in my left side and could give me nothing to relieve me."

"About this time I began taking Peruna and before I had taken one bottle I had hopes of getting better. By the time I had taken the second bottle, my cough was entirely gone and I felt like a new being."

"I took just three bottles of Peruna and am entirely well and feel better than I have felt for years. I thank God and Dr. Hartman for my recovery."

MANY cases of chronic catarrh result from a settled cold.

Women are especially liable to colds. These colds occur more frequently during the wet, sloppy weather of winter and spring than any other time of the year. Often they are not considered serious and are allowed to run on, or they are treated in such a way as to only palliate the symptoms, while the cold becomes more deep-seated and the patient finally awakens to the fact that she has a well-developed case of catarrh.

By reason of their delicate structure the lungs are frequently the seat of a cold, especially if there is the slightest weakness of these organs. The treatment of catarrh of the lungs is also more difficult and discouraging than catarrh of any other organ of the body.

It would be wise, therefore, to guard against it by every precaution possible. Peruna has been found a most reliable remedy for coughs, colds and catarrhal diseases, by reason of the fact that it goes at once to the very seat of the trouble.

WOMEN SHOULD BEWARE OF CATCHING COLD.

Strong and Vigorous Since Taking Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. Laura Benyo, 324 Ann street, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes:

"I am entirely cured of catarrh of the bronchial tubes by Peruna. My chest feels strong and vigorous, and it seems as though I never had catarrh."

"Whenever I am in need of medicine, Peruna will be what I will take. It saved my life. I shall always sing its praises."

One Bottle Brings Relief.
Miss Annie Huelsman, R. R. 2, Wright City, Mo., writes:

"For years I was troubled with catarrh. A friend advised Peruna. With the first bottle I found relief. I kept on taking it and am entirely well."
